

Shedding Light on Domestic Violence

We are extremely delighted to be working with the Fitchburg Police Department

Today, we at the Tiana Angelique Noice Foundation are proud to announce our partnership with the Fitchburg Police Department in an effort to bring awareness to Domestic Violence. It is extremely unfortunate that today, domestic assaults remain one of the most common incidents encountered by police officers. Along with the Fitchburg and Gardner Police Department, several local businesses are all lighting and displaying purple candles as part of this awareness initiative. "We feel this is a very worthy cause," said Police Capt. Harry Hess. "Anything we can do to make people aware of the need to report violence and seek help."

"It's important that victims, or family and friends of victims, are aware of what's available. We encourage them to come forward and seek help."

Light a candle and spread the word - we'd love your help as well!
